Mentor's Guide
Feb. 20 - 21, 2016

{T9} T9Hacks
Feb. 20 - 21, 2016

Thank you so much for choosing to be a mentor for T9Hacks 2016! We wouldn't be able to put on this event without you. Mentors at T9Hacks will be able to help students with their projects, give professional and technical advice, and build the confidence students need to move forward in technology and design fields.

General Information

Make sure you sign up at T9Hacks.org before the event!

Where:
University of Colorado Boulder
ATLAS Institute
Black Box Experimental Studio 2B10
1125 18th St. #207
Boulder, CO 80309

When:
3:00PM Saturday, February 20th to
5:00PM Sunday, February 21st

What will I be doing as a mentor?
Students have 24 hours to complete a project, and the topics will include mobile app development, web development, design, art, backend development, and other technology and creative design ideas. Any advice, suggestions, and positive feedback will benfit students significantly. Students will be working in teams of 4, and you may want to dedicate your time assisting one team; however, you are free to roam the event and help others.

On event day, join the Slack group for communication. We will be setting up channels for specific topics, and students can post questions that mentors can answer.

FAQ

How long do I have to stay?
We ask that you stay for at least 2 hours.

Will I get food?
Yes! If you attend the event during one of our meal or snack times, you are welcome to enjoy it with us. You are also welcome to have any beverages.
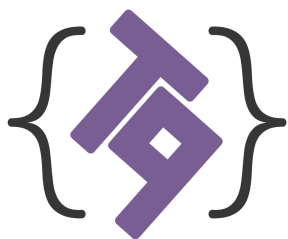

Where should I park?
You can park at the Euclid Ave. parking garage for $4 a day. If you don't mind walking, it is free to park at the engineering center and in nearby neighborhoods. The Hop, Skip, and Will Vill buses drop off right across the street.

What should I bring?
Bring a laptop, laptop charger, business cards (optional), and your enthusiasm!

What should I wear?
Wear your company shirt if you are required to do so. Otherwise, wear comfortable clothes and we will be providing you with a black T9Hacks t-shirt.
